presented by the GRADUATING CLASS of
THE HAVERFORD SCHOOL
HAVERFORD, PENNSYLVANIA

DEDICATION

As a small payment on a very large debt, the Class of 1957 gratefully dedicates its yearbook to Mr. Paul R. Evans.

Since coming to Haverford in 1948, Mr. Evans has won every student's respect as a top-notch English teacher. On the side, he was the able director of the Polemics Society, a post he held until this year, when he resigned to take on the responsibilities of co-advisor for the Index. In addition, Mr. Evans finds time to attend virtually every important athletic event throughout the year.

Mr. Evans' English course is the vital stepping stone between the fundamental routine of junior high school and the complicated research and creative work of college. His pupils always find him ready and willing to help them in this new type of study; indeed, any boy that has weathered Fourth Form English knows that in Mr. Evans he has found a fine teacher and a good friend.

A P P R E C I A T I O N

Mr. Paul R. Haviland came to Haverford in 1940. Those of the Senior Class who have been taught by him in Social Studies and History know him to be a capable and earnest instructor.

Mr. Haviland is equally well known as the advisor of the Service Club. Without his expert guidance the various annual drives which the club sponsors could not be held nor could the school store operate. A glance at the messages of gratitude from the charities which receive the Service Club's profits show the importance of Mr. Haviland's work.

It is with great pride that the Class of 1957 shows its deep appreciation to Mr. Haviland for the fine work he has done for Haverford.

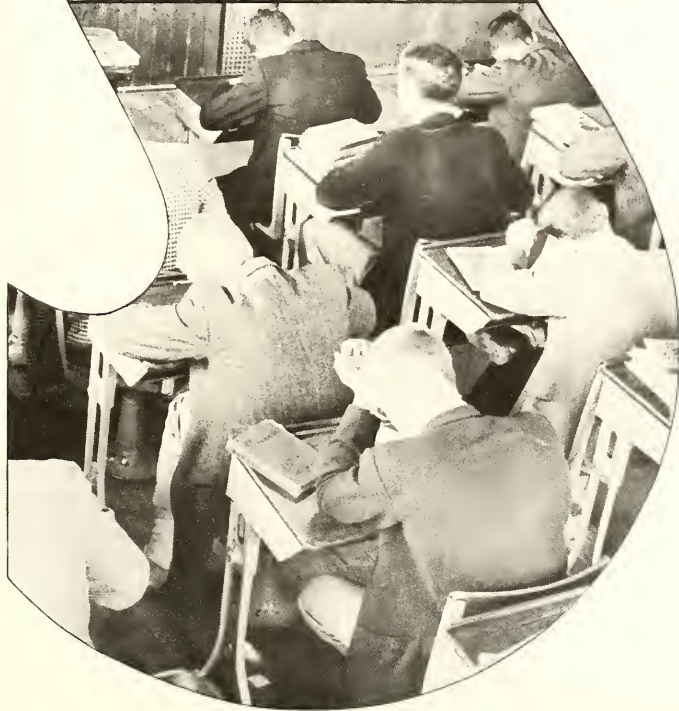

THE HEADMASTER'S MESSAGE

If you are a reader of the Psalms, you are aware of the recurrence of a little word that has no known meaning. The word is SELAH. It reminds me of a contemporary colloquialism for which there is no authorized spelling. This word is SEEYAH. While admitting that it has no standing in the aristocracy of speech, I recognize that it does possess American universality and meaning. Lacking the blue-ribbon status of "au revoir" and "auf wiedersehen", it manages to sum up, in its homeliness, the years of loyal friendship that have brought it into use. It is an exchange between friends in the confidence that they will meet again. SELAH says nothing; SEEYAH says just about everything.

When this book appears in print, you will be diploma-bound. Ahead lie years of college training and perhaps military service. The best wishes of all whom you leave behind go with you. Haverford has tried to do its best for you; you have given much in return. Out of this relationship has come a lasting and affectionate respect. Come back as often as you can. This is not a farewell message. It is a warm-hearted parting, accurate in meaning and hopefully prophetic.

SEEYAH

This year's Fourth Form readjusted quickly to school life. In English we read A Tale of Two Cities under Mr. Evans' competent guidance, while our math teachers drilled the binomial theorem into our heads in second year Algebra. As our elective courses, the Class of '59 chose Biology, Modern European History, French, Latin, German, and Spanish.

In extra-curricular activities, the Fourth Form was well represented. For the first time, we were given the opportunity to join the Senior School Glee Club, and once again the Dramatic Club attracted the class actors. The Service Club was the favorite activity for the civic-minded students, while the French, Spanish, and Latin Clubs provided stimulation for those who wished to further their knowledge of those languages. The Outing Club attracted the outdoor type and the socialites joined the Dance Committee.

In the spring of 1956, we elected Robert Sessions president of the Fourth Form; Christopher Harvey, vice-president; and Peter Crouse, secretary-treasurer. These boys also represented the Class of '59 on the Student Council.

During the past semester, we have become conscious of our growing responsibilities. In our remaining years at Haverford, we will strive harder than ever for both academic and athletic achievement as we prepare ourselves for college.

The Third Form year was a milestone in the schooling of all of us. We stopped playing little pranks and became more mature. During this year we not only learned our lessons but also began to assume greater responsibilities, preparing ourselves for the years to come. Third Form was an important change from happy-go-lucky times into more serious stages of learning, leading up to the term papers and Fifth Form speeches that were still a distance away.

Although this year was much harder than ever before, it was also more enjoyable. For the first time, we were able to participate in many extra-curricular activities. Many organizations — from the Outing Club to the Polemics Society — opened their doors to us and gave us added pleasure and knowledge. In several cases, we were able to choose the courses that we liked, insuring a year of interesting subjects for us.

At the end of last year we elected two officers who also represented us on the Student Council. They were Owen Simmons, president of the class, and Walter Howson, secretary-treasurer. They have been very conscientious and have done an excellent job.

Our Third Form year has brought about a big change in all of us. We have graduated from the attitude of carefree boys to the desire for assuming serious responsibilities. Our class has matured greatly and is eagerly awaiting the years to come.

CROSMAN HALL

THE JUNIOR SCHOOL

The 1956-57 school year has been busy and profitable for the 312 boys in the Junior School. Four new teachers - Mr. Woodward, fifth grade; Mrs. Cleaves, third grade; Miss Genovese and Mrs. Levy, first grade - joined the Lower School faculty this year.

We have had many good assemblies this year. Mr. Jarden, who has spent many summers in Northern Canada and Alaska, came and showed us a movie and told us about wildlife in the north. During the fall, we also had three movies on football and one on soccer. In autumn we played either soccer or football, and most of the teams had successful seasons.

On December 21, after months of hard practicing, 142 of us in the Junior School Glee Club helped to make the Christmas concert a big success. For the last number in the program, we joined the Senior School Glee Club in singing "The Christ is Born Today."

We had our annual gym exhibition and the Alpha-Omega relay race on March 22. After a week of spring vacation, school reopened, and baseball, tennis, and track began.

On May 31, the Fifth and Sixth Grades started final exams, and June 6, Pre-School through Third Grade had final exercises. The next day, the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Grades had their commencement. We in the Sixth Grade are now eagerly looking forward to First Form. In all, this has been a very successful year for the Junior School.

Providing you are a normal person and read your books in logical sequence rather than starting in the middle, you have digested by this time about one-third of this year's Haligoluk. You have no doubt formed an opinion of the book which will cause you to either beam or glare at the faces that appear before you on this page; we hope it is the former.

The 1957 Haligoluk is neither conservative nor radical in its format. While we have retained basically the same makeup in the Seniors, Sports, Activities, and School sections, we have revived the Class Prophecy - popular in the 20's - inserted ultra-modern dividers between the sections, and adorned the inside cover with an aerial photograph. We hope that these innovations, when added to the regular features (which have been livened by as many informal photographs as possible), will produce a combination satisfactory to you.

We wish to express our deep appreciation to our many student assistants; to our advisor, Mr. Byerly; to Miss Steinhauser of the Phillips Studio, and to Mrs. McClellan of School Life Press, without whose aid the Haligoluk could never have been published.

THE INDEX

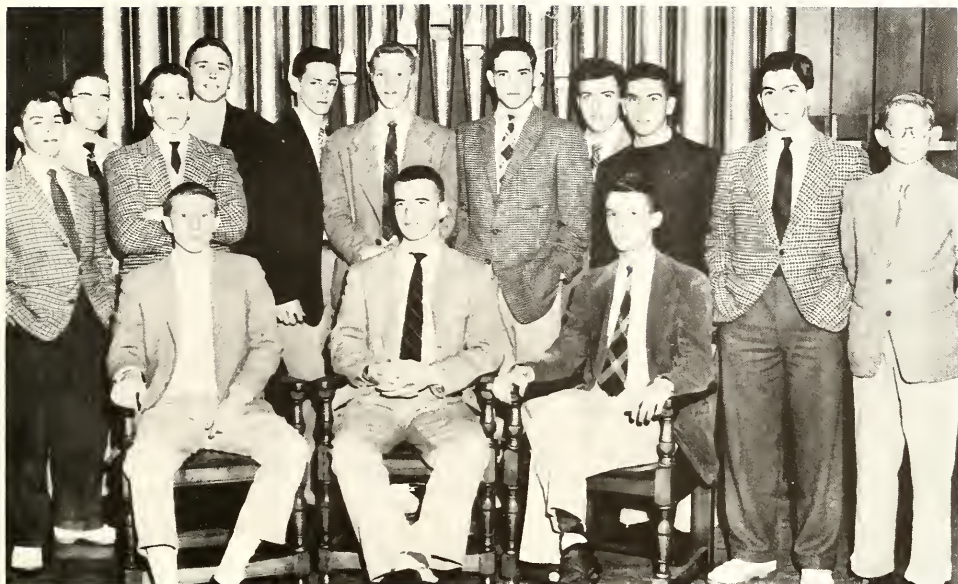

This year the Index saw many innovations and improvements. The most significant was the reduction of the size of the paper to four columns. Every other Friday at 2:03, eager preppers ran down to the Business Office to get their copies of the Index, hot off the presses.

Bob Gordon and Dave Litton worked hard to put out a truly extraordinary newspaper which figuratively gleamed like a jewel in the bright morning sunshine. Mr. Evans, a new faculty adviser, put a great deal of effort into the meticulous synchronization of administrative policies and Index dictums. His colleague, Mr. Dethier, kept a watchful eye on finances and Dave.

From the enthusiastic and delighted response of the student body to the paper, it is evident that the Index board of 1957 and their advisers deserve a great deal of credit.

THE POLEMICS CLUB

The purpose of the Polemics Society is to help train students of the Haverford School in the art of public speaking. Through intra-club debates and extemporaneous speeches, the members of the club can improve their poise and delivery, so that they will be able to talk freely and clearly. With the exception of the Dramatic Club and the now discontinued Assembly announcements, no other facet of school life can offer such opportunities.

Mr. Thomas Ewing replaced Mr. Evans as faculty adviser this year and is doing a fine job in that position. Unfortunately, there has not been as much enthusiasm displayed in the club so far this year as in past years, but under the capable leadership of president Dick Ledwith, and with the prospect of expanding activities, the Polemics Society should increase in popularity and attendance.

STUDENTS' POLYTECHNICAL INSTITUTE

The Students' Polytechnical Institute was originally founded two years ago by a group of boys who were seriously interested in expanding their scope of knowledge in science. The purpose of the organization now, as it was then, is to extend the knowledge of its members to sciences which may be unfamiliar to them, and to enable members to become acquainted with and to learn more about subjects in which they are interested.

This purpose is successfully fulfilled in the weekly meetings of the members of the Students' Polytechnical Institute, or more commonly called the S. P. I. At these weekly meetings, lectures are given by various members and the topic of the lecture is then discussed. This club has set up many standards which differentiate it from all the other clubs at Haverford and which make it more dignified and select. There are no officers in this organization, and each member takes turns lecturing and conducting the meetings.

The members of the S. P. I. are segregated into several ranks, according to their proven scientific knowledge. Edward A. Dixon, Norris Eisenbrey, Gordon Large, and William Arnold, the only remaining founders of the society, are Masters of the S. P. I. At present, John duPont, Alan Lightcap, Robert Gordon, and Dave Litton are Fellows of S. P. I., while John Arscott, Robert Cohen, Edgar Hoag, Robert Kreidler, Paul Souder, and Charles Anderson are Associate Members. Mr. Gottshall has generously taken the position of faculty adviser.

LATIN CLUB

This year's Latin Club has changed in form, somewhat, from that of last year. Whereas last year's club consisted mainly of juniors and seniors, who lent the club an air of higher, more astute knowledge, the present club members consist, in the main, of First Year Latin students — the Third Form. While many of the members are Fourth and Fifth Formers, the freshmen, who enhance the club meetings with their witty and timely remarks and suggestions, are responsible for the rise in the club's attendance and the quadrupling of last year's membership. No longer does one find a club member in deep meditation over a question concerning Alexander's phalanxes — the up-to-date member is either chuckling over a joke in the club's book of Latin jokes, Facetia, or engrossed in a Latin crossword puzzle.

However, there are certain unspoken, unwritten customs which are as much a part of the club as Dr. Newhall, club faculty advisor. The annual trip to Philadelphia's Franklin Institute for a lecture on "classical Mythology in the Stars" and the bi-monthly reading of Res Gestae, a Latin newspaper published by a Toronto, Canada, firm are two of these traditions. Reports on living conditions in older Rome; for example, aqueducts and their construction, and marital problems of the early Romans, delivered by each member in an address to the club, constitute another tradition.

The club officers this year are: Dick Brittain, president; Jeff Allen, vice-president; and Barry Matlavage, secretary-treasurer. These officers presided at all club functions but one — the club auction, where Ted Connolly took charge of the proceedings as auctioneer.

NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

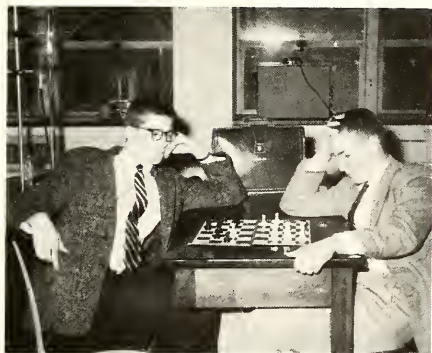

Neumon, Widing, Boerner, Mr. Rugg, Jeff Allen.

The Natural Science Club has completed its fourth year as an established club in the Haverford School and was composed of a group of boys interested in many facets of nature. Only through their sincerity and desire to learn was the organization the success that it was.

In the weekly meetings, the members of the club showed moving pictures and gave talks in the fields in which they specialized. During these meetings, the other members learned a great deal about many sorts of scientific subjects. However, the activities of the club were by no means limited to Mr. Rugg's laboratory. From time to time, the boys organized trips to further their knowledge and enjoyment of Nature.

All these activities would not have been possible without the help of four individuals. President John duPont ably planned and stimulated club projects; vice-president Sheldon Severinghaus saw to it that meetings ran smoothly; and secretary Stephen Huebner carefully took the minutes. Of course, no mention of the Natural Science Club would be complete without mention of its faculty advisor, Mr. Rugg. Only through his unselfish devotion of time and effort could the organization function as efficiently as it did.

HOYLE CLUB

This year, the Hoyle Club is celebrating its fifth anniversary as one of the most popular clubs in Haverford School.

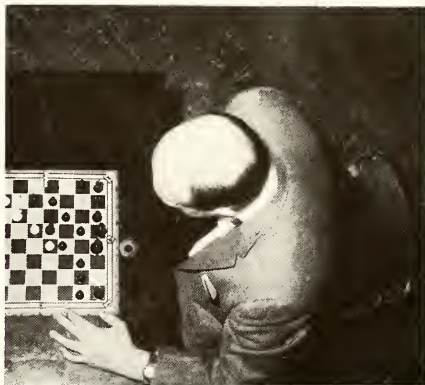

The main purpose of the club is to promote the playing of chess, checkers, and bridge. Under the inspiring and enthusiastic leadership of president Frank Wilkinson and secretary Martin Hatch, the club has attained a new high in enrollment. The eighteen boys on the chess ladder were very active in challenge matches. Willis Geib, Gay Hopkins, Hatch, and Wilkinson each held the top place on the ladder at one time or another this year. Also there was widespread interest in checkers. The highpoint of the year for the checker players was an opportunity to play against Mr. Sensenig, who has lost only one game since he came to Haverford.

A new wrinkle was introduced into the club this year. The donation of a gadget called an auto-bridge gives a bridge player a chance to play bridge against the calculated moves of the experts.

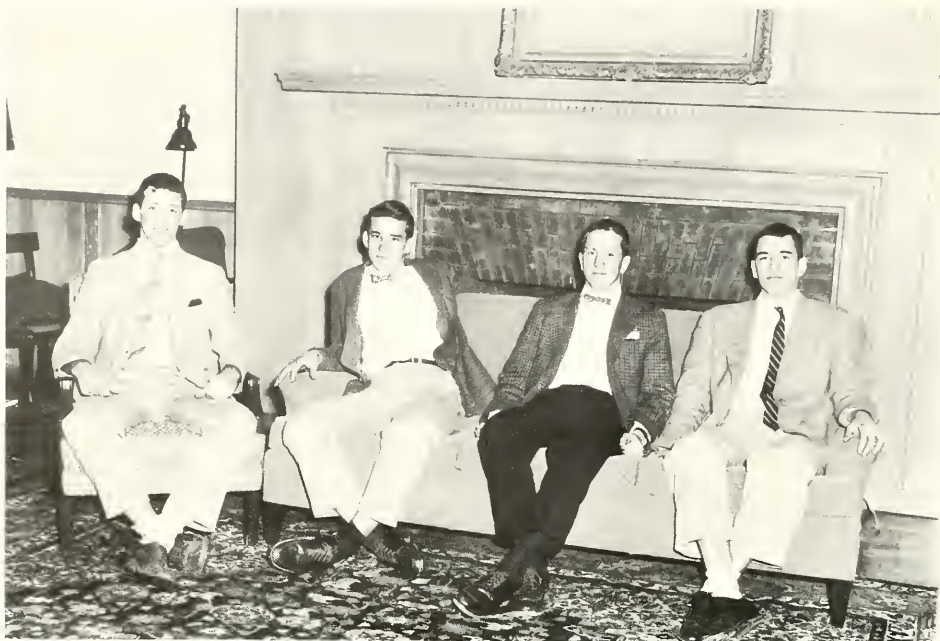

Most of the credit for the apparent success and popularity of the Hoyle Club can be attributed to its faculty adviser, Mr. Sensenig. Ever since the creation of the club, he has been devoting long hours to the instruction in the finer points of the games.

Cum Laude is a national preparatory school honor society. Each year, the top ten percent of the Junior Class is elected to the organization shortly before graduation. Last June, the Haverford School chapter admitted Joseph Allen, Lawrence Buell, William Ewing, and Christopher Smith to Cum Laude. The primary prerequisite for membership in the society is scholarship.

Cum Laude has no regular function, so the four boys had nothing to do but pose for the Haligoluk picture and attend a meeting of the Philadelphia branch of the society.

The faculty adviser of the Cum Laude Society is Dr. Newhall, who accompanies the boys to the Spring conference and aids in deciding the membership of the organization. In addition to the four Haverford members already in Cum Laude, several more boys are to be selected for the society shortly before commencement. Since the total membership of Cum Laude must not exceed twenty percent of the graduating class, the number of Seniors chosen this year will probably not exceed five.

SIGNET SOCIETY

The Signet Society was founded in 1941 as the school's honor society. The object of the Society is to develop a wholesome school spirit, to support all the best things that the school undertakes, and to discover and encourage ability in all activities in which the school takes part.

The "point" system, which grades each school accomplishment for its worth, and a vote of the graduating class provide the yardstick by which Sixth Formers are measured for membership in the Signet. In addition, each prospective member must be approved by the headmaster. This year, approximately 1/3 of the Senior Class was honored with membership in the Society.

New members were brought into the group at four different times during the past school year. The eleven boys admitted on these occasions supplemented the original five, who formed the nucleus of the Signet at the beginning of the Senior year.

William H. Ewing, president; Peter C. Ward, vice-president; Olin W. West

III, secretary; Christopher S. Smith, treasurer; and Stephen T. Vehslage constituted the nucleus. In October, Lawrence I. Buell, Senior high-point man, and Frederic P. Carter, III became members. The Senior Class elected Ralph T. Geer and David L. Litton to the honor group at Thanksgiving, when W. Wallace Dyer and Robert H. Gordon Jr. were admitted with the highest point totals.

In February, Joseph D. Allen Jr. joined the Signet as Senior high-point man, while Thomas B. Russell was elected to membership. At the same time, the Society initiated Albert C. Oehrle, by virtue of the fact that he had earned more points than any other Fifth Former. The honor society received its last two Senior members in April. Richard W. Ledwith Jr. possessed the largest total of points, and John Girvin was chosen in an election among his classmates. Near the end of the year, four more Fifth Formers were selected. These boys, with Oehrle, will form next year's nucleus.

Standing: Harvey, Crouse, Sessions, Eisenbrey, Simmans, Oehrle, W. Howson. Sitting: Hepburn, Geer, Vehslage, Ward, Gordon.

STUDENT COUNCIL

One of the organizations to display its influence more successfully on Haverford this year is the Student Council. Composed of Stephen Vehslage, Taggart Geer, Peter Ward, and Robert Gordon from the Sixth Form; Philip Hepburn, Norris Eisenbrey, and Albert Oehrle from the Fifth Form; Robert Sessions, Christopher Harvey, and Peter Crouse from the Fourth Form; and Walter Howson and Owen Simmons from the Third Form, the council elected Vehslage as its president and Ward as its secretary.

In an experiment by the administration, this year's council was elected last Spring to serve as both class officers and Student Councilmen. As a prerequisite to candidacy each boy had to submit a petition signed by five of his classmates. This innovation aroused a lot of criticism but final agreement was soon reached, and the new Student Council was formed after a successful

One of the most popular accomplishments of this year's Student Council was the installation of a Coca Cola machine in the basement of Wilson Hall. The council spearheaded the drive of the student body for better theme paper. The influence of the council was responsible for the Senior proctors in study halls. The clean-up-squad in the lunchroom was organized and composed of members of the Student Council.

The Student Council met every Monday at 2:03. In the presence of Mr. Johnson they carried out their various duties. The main functions of the council are to deliberate over various complaints filed by their classmates, decide what proposed improvements around the school can be handled by them, and deal with the disciplining of certain student offenders.

ORPHEOS

This has been the first year of existence for the Orpheos, which replaces last year's two separate small singing groups with one group of sixteen.

Experimenting to develop a new style, Jay Allen, Bob Sessions, and Dave Rogers brought their guitars and accompanied the Orpheos in several songs. The experiment proved a success and many of the numbers during the year were sung with a guitar accompaniment.

The Orpheos had a great deal of singing experience for their repertoire of forty numbers. They sang at hospitals, mental institutions, private homes, the Valley Forge Memorial Chapel, and at school dances. The group also sang two half-hour radio broadcasts for WFLN-FM.

No article about a singing organization at Haverford would be complete without expressing thanks and appreciation to Mr. Law, who devoted his time and interest to its development. Credit should also be given to the officers of the Orpheos, Dick Ledwith, President, and Fred Carter and Peter Ward, Vice-Presidents.

GLEE CLUB

This year the Glee Club, consisting of 70 members under the direction of Mr. Frank P. Law, had a very full schedule. Two months before the Christmas Concert, traditionally the first concert, the club broke precedent by singing a program for the Junior School fund-raising dinner. In the spring there were four concerts with girls' schools. The concert with Agnes Irwin at Haverford and the three away concerts with Baldwin, Shipley, and St. Mary's Hall proved to be very successful and a lot of fun.

It must be said, however, that the highlight of the season was the thrilling concert at the Academy of Music in March. Along with the Mendelssohn Club, The St. Peter's Boys' Choir, Olney High School, Collingswood High School, and The Baldwin School, the Glee Club sang six choruses from Handel's Messiah under the direction of Mr. Harold Gilbert. They also sang by themselves four well-received numbers under Mr. Law's direction. Having had its first experience with a great oratorio with the Elijah last year, the Glee Club greatly enjoyed acquiring a further knowledge of fine music with the Messiah. The thrill of singing in the Academy was, needless to say, overwhelming.

The very able officers of the Glee Club this year were Jay Allen, President; Fred Carter, Vice-President; and Wally Dyer, Secretary-Treasurer. Also not to be forgotten were the student accompanists Van Sloan, Albert Oehrle, and Fred Carter.

OUTING CLUB

The Outing Club, under the able leadership of Mr. Rugg, has had a busy year. At each meeting a lecture was given by one of the members on a subject connected with the outdoors. Some of the more interesting talks were given by Baird Morgan on his canoe trip in Canada, by Jim Gallagher on camping techniques, and by Mr. Rugg on skiing. Films and slides accompanied most of the talks.

In October, the club took a camping trip to Hickory Run State Park. This outing was very successful and everyone had a wonderful time. In November, the Outing Club went over to Stewart Furlong's home for trap shooting. This excursion drew about 20 people, all of whom enjoyed themselves. Samuel Dixon proved to be the best rifleman.

On February 4, 1957, the Outing Club disbanded and merged with the Natural Sciences Club to form the Wilderness Club. This organization retained the functions of both clubs.

The officers of this year's Outing Club were Fred Gottshall, president; John duPont, vice-president; and George Robertson, secretary-treasurer.

Gottsholl, Alles, Litton, S. Carter, Hyland, Hornsey, F. Carter, Souder.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The main purpose of the Dance Committee is to schedule, decorate, and provide entertainment for the many dances which were presented during the school year. Fred Carter was the chairman of this year's committee and Van Alles was his righthand man. Mr. Covert continued with the trying and nerve-racking job of faculty adviser which he has held for the last several years. Although there were only seven committee members in the beginning of the year, several more members were elected as reward for their hard work in helping to decorate for the various dances.

The first dance that the committee presented featured the music of the "Earl Lee Trio" (Oehrle, Pedersen, and Stevens), and this started a very successful string of dances. Due to the hard and inspired work of the dance committee, the Football Dance, with Bob Harry and his orchestra, was about the most successful dance of the year.

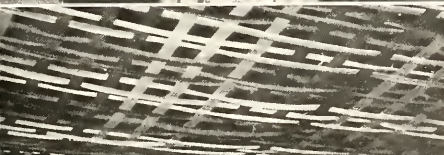

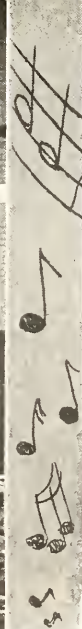

During the second half of the school year, the Dance committee presented three informals, including the Junior Class dance, the "Spring Thaw", and an informal dance after the March play. Of course, the final dance of the year was the June Formal.

Very few people realize how much work is necessary to put on a dance. Most members of the Dance Committee have to put eight or ten hours into decorating for a dance. On the Thursday nights before dances boys can be observed working late into the night in the apparatus room or in the basketball court. Credit must also be given to Mr. Repetto for trying to sort out the finances of the committee.

SERVICE CLUB

The Service Club was organized to provide an outlet for boys who are interested in social service activities. The club has conducted drives for the Community Chest, Red Cross, March of Dimes, and Hungarian Relief. It also had a special drive to collect clothes for the Hungarian refugees.

Jeff Allen, Brinton, Hepburn, Crouse, Cornwell, Bevan, Widing.

Through their selfless and worthy work, the members of the club gain pride and inner satisfaction. The club sponsors and operates the school store and has brought a Coke machine to the campus. The profits that are made from these devices are donated to worthy charities.

The officers of the Service Club are: Tom Russell, president; Peter Ward, vice-president; co-treasurers, Tom Chase and Wally Dyer; and Purchasing Agent, John Arscott. Mr. Haviland has been the excellent faculty adviser.

THE THIRD FORM FRENCH CLUB

As usual, the Third Form French Club had a banner year. This club is one of the largest in school, having a total enrollment of 24 members. The organization is headed by Walter Howson, president; Phil Burnam, secretary, and Mr. Covert, the faculty adviser.

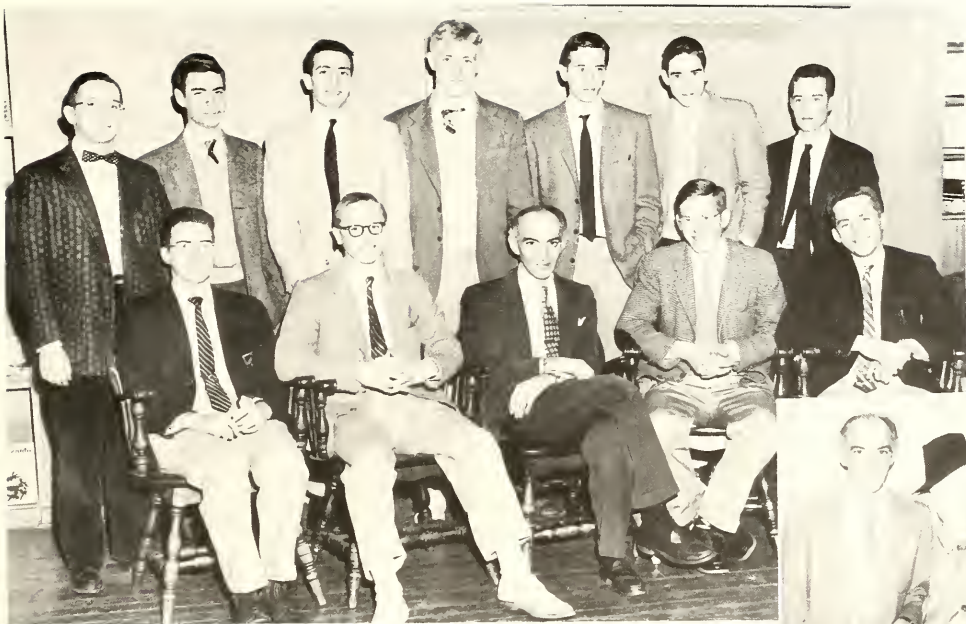

The club met every two weeks. Its main aim is to increase the vocabulary and improve the pronunciation of the Third Form French student. When the members joined the club in September, they knew little about France, but at the conclusion of the club year in May, they had acquired a good knowledge of France and the French people.

One of the main activities of the club was reading the French newspaper, La Jeunesse, to which all the members subscribe. This paper contains interesting articles on the life and ideas of the French, and also contains puzzles to test the vocabulary of the student. At each meeting, the members took turns translating the articles.

The highlight of the year occurred when two students from the club were chosen to compete in the Temple French Contest at the elementary level. To select these boys, Mr. Covert gave the members a series of pronunciation, dictation, and vocabulary tests during the course of the year. In past years, under the supervision of Monsieur L'Heritier, a native Frenchman, Haverford's contestants have won more than their share of honors in these contests.

FRENCH CLUB

This year the French Club was under the able direction of Mr. Agade, and has progressed very far in developing a knowledge of the culture of France.

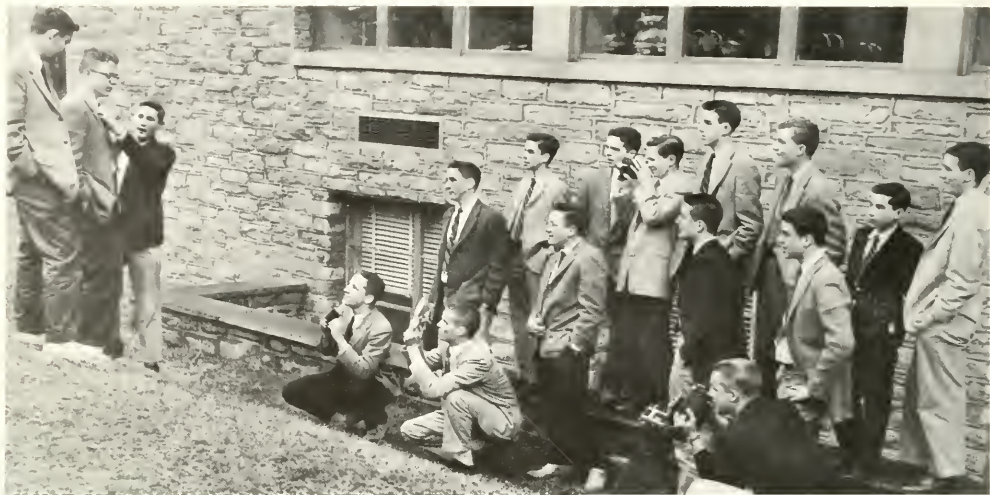

The members have also been introduced to the works of some of France's greatest philosophers and writers and have read parts of some twenty odd books. The program of the club has proved extremely interesting and the attendance at the bi-weekly meetings was high. The officers this year were: Fred Wentz, president; Rusty Stevens, vice-president; James Affleck, secretary, and John Bevan, treasurer. Every year the French Club sends a boy into the Temple French Contest, who usually upholds Haverford's fine reputation, and this year was no exception.

Mr. Agade has pointed out the marked differences between the schools of France and those of the United States.

Also, in order that his students might supplement their basic knowledge of French necessary for doing a good job on the college boards, the French Club offers a wider variety of "Frenchisms" and gives a broader view of French ideas. These ideas are taken from great French writers, from people Mr. Agade has known, and from the indefatigable Mr. Agade himself.

Another activity of the French Club has been conversational French classes which have been open to any student whether they were currently taking French or not.

The French Club was a big success this year thanks to the tireless efforts of Mr. Agade and the enthusiastic members of the organization. Certainly, if the boys of the Haverford School continue in their interest in the club and its activities, the French Club is destined for greater things.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club, during its third year of existence, has continued its progress in promoting better photography in the Haverford School. The nucleus of the club is made up of members of the Senior School.

The club, which meets every second Thursday, assembles in the chemistry laboratory and the adjoining darkroom. The members of the club have discussions about the art of taking pictures and how to improve each others' photography, and the members remark about pictures taken by their fellows. In order to encourage photography in the school, the club sponsors contests with cash prizes. At the beginning of the year, there was a contest for the best color slides taken during the summer. Other contests were for pictures taken on the school campus; the best pictures were submitted to the Index and the Haligoluk.

The annual dues, which were collected at the beginning of the year, were used for supplying equipment for the club and financing the prizes in the photography contests. The club officers this year were: Philip Hepburn, Haligoluk and Index photographer, president; Sandy Dixon, who actually started the club, vice-president; and Gordon Large, secretary-treasurer. The most responsible and crucial position of faculty adviser was ably filled by Mr. Gottshall.

Due to the inspiring efforts of Mr. Gottshall and the officers, the Photography Club is definitely emerging as one of the most popular clubs in school. The success and popularity of any club is measured by the number and interest of its members, and in this respect the Photography Club has enjoyed a highly successful year.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

This year, the Current Events Club enjoyed an extremely successful year. There were about fifteen members who met every Tuesday in order to enlighten each other on world affairs.

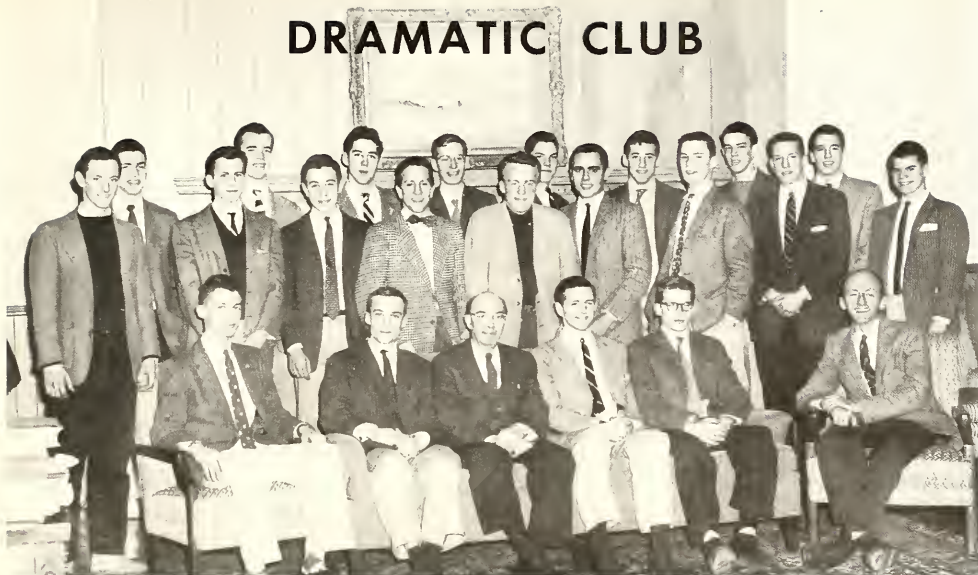

At the first meeting, the purpose and format of the Club was explained to the members by Mr. Allen, the faculty adviser. The boys decided to hold their meetings on Tuesdays.

Every Tuesday, three members of the club gave reports, one on a national news topic, one on an international news topic, and one on a miscellaneous news topic. In addition to these reports, the club assigned a five-man committee that capably staged a Presidential election in the Haverford School.

Also the club has sent representatives on World Affairs Council trips to Washington and the United Nations. Harvey Bartle represented the club as a Representative in a mock Congress Bill in Philadelphia, and another representative was sent to a mock United Nations meeting staged by the World Affairs Council.

The officers of the club were Tom Russell, President; Tom Chase, Vice-president; and Harvey Bartle succeeded Bill Ewing as Secretary at the mid-term.

As in past years, the Dramatic Club produced two presentations during the school year. First were the three one-act plays given in December. The first play, ghoulishly entitled Murder Is Fun, had a star-studded cast which included Wallace Dyer and Thomas Russell. The second play, In the Zone, starred Peter Ward, with William Ewing, Walter Howson, and others in supporting roles. The third play, Sham, featured Christopher Smith with Robert Sessions supporting. The girls in these plays came mostly from Baldwin.

The second production of the club was the three-act comedy You Can't Take It With You. Deprived of Roberts Hall this year, the club experimented and put the show on in the semi-round in Crosman Hall. The cast included: Peter Ward as Tony Kirby, Christopher Smith as Gramps, Wallace Dyer as Kolenkhov, Walter Howson as Paul Sycamore, William Ewing as Mr. De Pinna, and Jay Allen as Ed. The girls in the play were from Baldwin, Agnes Irwin, and Lower Merion. The comedy attracted over 400 viewers and was very successful.

The officers of this year's Dramatic Club were: Peter Ward, president; Mr. Black, vice-president; Frederic Carter, secretary; and Mr. Repetto, treasurer. No mention of the club would be complete without giving a great deal of credit to Mr. Jameson, who served as faculty advisor, producer, and director, and who played a major part in bringing about the success that the club enjoyed this year.

FOOTBALL

The Varsity Football team finished its season with a fair record of four wins, three losses, and one tie. Haverford finished third in the Inter-Academic League with a disappointing 1-2-1 slate. In all, the Fords won four and tied one in their home games, but they lost all three of their away contests.

The season started with a 6-13 loss to Frankford High School, but the following week the team rebounded to trounce St. Joseph's Prep 25-6. The Fords' third foe was Northeast, whose team had won the Public League title in 1955 and was to wind up second in the conference in 1956. Four touchdown underdogs, Haverford upset Northeast, 19-13, in a thrill-packed contest which Coach Doc Wallace called the finest exhibition he has ever seen a Haverford football team stage.

A week later, however, the Fords were ambushed by a fired-up Penn

In their final game of the season, the Fords met their traditional rival, Episcopal Academy. Although Haverford threatened three times in the final period to break a 13-13 deadlock, Episcopal grimly resisted and the game ended in a tie.

Haverford had its share of individual stars. Quarterback and co-captain Olin West was chosen as a first string backfield man on both the All-Inter-Ac and All-Main Line elevens. Tackle Richard Ledwith made first team All-Inter-Ac and second team All-Main Line, while end Joseph Scattergood made the second string on both polls. Halfback Thomas Webster made the second and third team All-Inter-Ac and All-Main Line, respectively. Guard Charles Olson, center Morton Gibbons-Neff, and co-captain and fullback Richard Eckfeldt received honorable mention.

WHAT A TEAM — WHAT A SEASON!
Winning more games (11) in one season than any previous soccer team in the history of the school, this year's varsity booters, under the guidance of Head Coach Harry K. Smith and Assistant Coach Ben Heyward, fought for and captured the coveted Inter-Academic League

Soccer Championship, placed eight of their members on the All-Inter-Academic Teams, sent two of their boys to the All-Scholastic Team, and finished undefeated in league play.

Led by

Captains Ted Rauch and Steve Vehslage, the two Haverford players to make the All-Scholastic line-up for the second year in a row, the squad compiled an overall record of 11 wins, two losses, and two ties, amassing the winning combination of 8-0-2 in league competition. They scored a total of 39 goals: Rauch was high man with 16 followed by Bob Gordon with 7. The defense directed by goal keeper Don Shaffer allowed only 12 goals to be scored on them all season — 7 in league play.

The toughest hurdles en route to the fourth championship in Harry Smith's nine years of coaching were the two Episcopal games and the second Penn Charter contest. The first clash with Episcopal started and ended in a scoreless tie. To many of the players and spectators who were present that afternoon this game was one of the most emotional, hard-fought, and close battles ever to be waged on the Haverford soccer field.

Two weeks later the pattern for league championship was set as Penn Charter fell to Haverford's spirited club. Then the contest that won us the title — Episcopal — a team we hadn't beaten in four years. As in the last three games, the opponent scored first. Accustomed to this annoyance, the Fords turned on the power and 24 hours later the Index flashed the news: "Soccer Team Captures Inter-Ac Championship!"

This year's starting eleven centered around five seniors. First there were co-captains Rauch and Vehslage — the former highest individual goal scorer in the history of the school and one who gave his all to win every game, and the latter the high-spirited and talented half-back who broke the attack of many opposing threats with his determined hustle. Sam Dixon and Bob Gordon, along with the previously mentioned duo, made up the list of Haverford's members on the All-Inter-Academic first team. Dixon spent the season discouraging all enemy center forwards who tried to penetrate the Haverford defense. Although plagued half the season with a torn muscle in one leg, Gordon played spirited ball all year. These four boys were joined by John Girvin — the team's outside left — who made many goals possible with his fine play. Ollie Cannon, also graduating, did his share of fine work in the forward line.

AFTER

THE CHAMPS

The varsity basketballers, led by captain Alfred Rauch and ably coached by Mr. Prizer, had one of their best seasons in many years. Vanquished by only five opponents, the team came within two points of being the first undefeated Haverford squad (in Inter-Ac play) in 20 years.

For the first time since 1950, the basketball team won the championship of the Inter-Academic League. During Christmas vacation they also won the Wayne Rotary Tournament, defeating Downingtown High in the final round. From December 14 to February 9, the team ran up a streak of 14 consecutive wins.

The opponents that they defeated during the skein were: Conestoga (52-47), Chestnut Hill (58-30), St. Joseph's Prep (59-53), Upper Merion (45-28), Downingtown (54-31), Hill School (45-43), Penn Charter (53-45), Friends' Central (62-29), Germantown Academy (49-40), Malvern (48-33), Episcopal (38-31), Bryn Athyn (58-43), Penn Charter (42-35), and Friends' Central (42-35).

On the day after the second Friends' Central game, Lawrenceville defeated a tired Haverford five (37-49), who doggedly kept within two or four points of the victors most of the game. Six days later, however, the team mauled Germantown Academy (68-50). Victories over Girard College (56-38) and Malvern (47-46) soon followed.

The Malvern game was definitely the climax of the season. During the contest the lead changed hands 16 times. With 24 seconds left, Olin West's one hander from the right side of the court capped a Haverford rally from a four point deficit and won the game.

A week later, the squad traveled over to Episcopal and suffered a 42-44 defeat in the first overtime played by them in more than two years.

This game ended their season, making their league record 9-1 and an overall slate 17-5. The team won nine and lost two at home, while its road record was 8-3. Donald Shaffer was high scorer for the second consecutive year and was followed by Rauch, Aldrich, and West, respectively. Shaffer had 319 points and tied for the league lead with 157, while Rauch had 224, Aldrich 219, and West 122. Other scorers were Fletcher, 84; Hepburn, 37; Acuff, 18; Scattergood, 24; and Ridgley, 11.

Lettermen this year were Aldrich, Fletcher, Hepburn, Rauch, Shaffer, Scattergood, West, Acuff, Chase, and Bartle.

Honors that the members of the team received were: Shaffer, first team all-Inter-Ac, first string all-Main Line, and outstanding player of the Inter-Ac League; Rauch, first team all-Inter-Ac and second team all-Main Line; Aldrich, second string all-Inter-Ac and all-Main Line; West, second team all-Inter-Ac; Fletcher, honorable mention all-Inter-Ac; and Hepburn, honorable mention all-Inter-Ac.

On the whole, Coach Prizer seems to have been the only regular member of the team not to have received an award. However, the varsity and every other Haverford fan will agree that to Mr. Prizer belongs the majority of the credit for the success of a very successful squad.

"I don't believe it"

"I'm simply delighted"

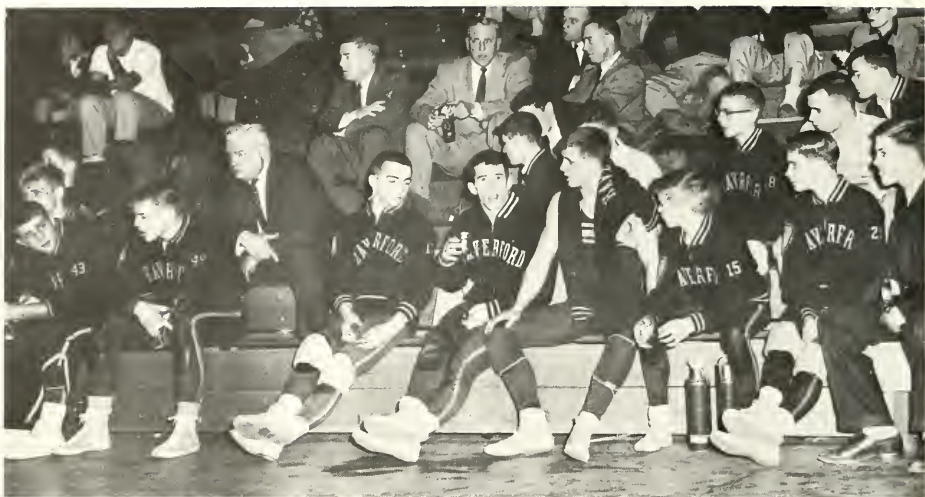

The Wrestling Team this year had one of its usually successful seasons, for it was undefeated in 15 meets. Invincible Coach Neil Buckley modestly admits that his team is the best in the school and he proved it when this year's experienced squad showed prowess in both wrestling and sportsmanship.

In December there were only three open weights on the varsity which were filled by Peter Dodge (95 lb.), Kit Wilkes (120 lb.), and Fred Meinke (165 lb.). It was through the efforts of veterans Jim Eaton (112 lb.), Tag Geer (138 lb.), Capt. Tom Webster (145 lb.), Tom Russell (154 lb.), and Dick Eckfeldt (175 lb.) that, by the first matches in January, these newcomers were dependable members of the team. All should be commended for the many extra hours of hard practice they put in.

Against normally strong adversaries like Bryn Athyn, Peddie, and Lawrenceville, the Buckaneers overwhelmed their opponents so easily that soon other schools, not on our schedule, were challenging the team. Not to the wishing of the boys, the schedule was too busy to arrange any extra meets. The Inter-Ac League, as usual, provided no trouble for the Fords, as the championship was won for the seventh consecutive year. In the final meet of the season with Valley Forge, the team was concentrating more on the ensuing tournament and won a too close 22-20 decision over the cadets for the most exciting meet of the year.

In dual meets, Capt. Webster and Cliff Keenan (133 lb.) were undefeated, but the latter won the wrestling trophy in a close race which wasn't decided until the last meet. The trophy is given annually to the grappler who earns the most points in dual meets. Cliff totaled a very impressive 59 pts. while Phil Burnham (103 lb.) was right behind him with 57 pts.

For the seventh straight year, the wrestlers won the Episcopal Invitation Tournament and this time had a record 87 pts. to the second place 52 pts. First place champions for Haverford were: Burnham; Keenan; Geer; Webster; Eckfeldt; and heavyweight, John Dietrick. Jim Eaton and Fred Meinke captured second positions, while Tom Russell took third place.

Next year, under the leadership of Captain Al Oehrle, the wrestlers will have to work extremely hard to compile as good a season as this year's team did. But with returning stalwarts like Al, Cliff Keenan, Fred Meinke, John Dietrick, Kit Wilkes, and Phil Burnham, Coach Buckley's team can look forward to another great season.

This year's swimming team had the greatest array of talent in the history of the school. Compiling a record of 9-2, the squad's stars lowered every Haverford swimming record except the dive.

The 50-yard freestyle record was broken at the Navy plebe meet by Norris Eisenbrey, who swam the distance in 23.8 seconds.

The 100-yard butterfly-breast-stroke record was broken by Eisenbrey in the Peddie meet. His 1:00.6 clocking not only lowered the school and pool records but also broke the listed national prep school mark.

In the Hill meet, David McIlvaine broke the school record in the 200-yard freestyle with a brilliant 2.00.4. In the same race, Gaylord Hopkins broke the same mark with 2.00.5.

After a season of fruitless attempts, Eisenbrey crashed through the minute barrier with a 59.9 second clocking for the 100-yard backstroke in the season's final meet with the Princeton freshmen. This sensational time eclipsed the school record and also the national prep school mark.

In the Lawrenceville meet, John Haslett broke the school mark in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 52.9 seconds.

Hopkins was the first swimmer to lower the 150-yard individual medley record during the season. Hopkins swam the distance in the Hill meet in 1:34.1. Eisenbrey later broke Gay's record in the Eastern Interscholastic Championships. Norris swam the 150 in the time of 1.32.1, breaking not only the Lawrenceville pool, Eastern Interscholastic Championship, and Haverford School records, but also the national prep school record.

The 200-yard medley relay team had its record-breaking day at the Navy plebe meet. The quartet of Captain John Girvin, backstroke; Baird Morgan, orthodox; Eisenbrey, butterfly; and Haslett, freestyle broke the mark of last year's team with a 1.50.4 clocking.

The 200-yard freestyle relay broke its record in the Lawrenceville meet. The quartet of Christopher Shoch, James Shoch, Girvin, and Haslett toured the course in 1.36.8.

The highlights of the season were the Hill and Lawrenceville meets and the Eastern Interscholastics. In the Hill meet, six school records were set by the natators while losing to the powerful Hill swimmers in the last relay, 35-42.

The Lawrenceville meet was by far the most exciting contest of the season. Eisenbrey and Hopkins started the afternoon by winning the 50 free and 100 breaststroke, respectively. After McIlvaine placed second in the 200, Eisenbrey became a double winner by capturing the 100 backstroke easily. In the 100 freestyle, Haslett lost by an eyelash, and in the fancy diving, Ollie Cannon won by 44/100 of a point. Hopkins became the second double winner for Haverford by winning the 150 individual medley. At this point, Haverford led, 37-26, but Lawrenceville churned up to sweep the medley and free relays to pull out the victory, 40-37. Dyer

In the Eastern Interscholastics at Lawrenceville, the mermen gave an outstanding performance. Hopkins, George Mulligan, and McIlvaine placed fourth, fifth, and sixth, respectively, in the 200 freestyle. Eisenbrey and Girvin won first and fifth in the 100 backstroke. Haslett took second in the 100 freestyle. In the 150 individual medley, Eisenbrey took first and Hopkins and McIlvaine placed fifth and sixth. The 200 medley relay team of Thomas Whitesell, Morgan, Cannon, and Wallace Dyer placed fifth. In overall team standings, Haverford finished third to Hill and Lawrenceville, gaining 34 points in the best showing that a Haverford team has ever made in the Interscholastics.

The lettermen of this great team were: captain John Girvin, Norris Eisenbrey, Gaylord Hopkins, John Haslett, David McIlvaine, Wallace Dyer, George Mulligan, James Shoch, Christopher Shoch, James Whitesell, Thomas Whitesell, John Ramsdell, George Robertson, Baird Morgan, Oliver Cannon, and Bruce MacFadyen. Capt. Vehslage, Coach Dethier, R. West, Scowcroft, G. West, Hyland, Howe.

This year the varsity squashmen captured their eighth Inter-Academic League Squash Championship. Coached by Mr. Charles Dethier and led by their able captain and National Junior Champion, Steve Vehslage, the team compiled an 8-1 record; with their only loss resulting from a close contest with the Yale Freshmen, a perennial obstacle.

The season opened with a 4-3 win over the Princeton Fresh, followed by four straight victories: Episcopal, 4-2; Penn Charter, 6-0; Navy Plebes, 5-2; and Episcopal again, 5-1. After a heartbreaking loss to Yale, the racquetmen surged to the attack and pounded the remaining opposition into humble defeat. Penn Charter, 6-0; Army Plebes, 5-2; and Dickinson College, 9-0 provided little opposition to the polished Dethiermen, as they finished out one of the most successful squash seasons the School has ever seen.

Throughout the year, the competition for the sixth position provided a

The highpoints of the season were the trips to Army, Navy, Yale and Princeton. These matches were good fun and this year's squad seemed to receive a tremendous amount of pleasure from their travels.

Captain West

Although they had only four lettermen returning from last year's co-champs, the 1957 varsity baseball team developed rapidly under the leadership of Captain Olin West and the fine coaching of Mr. Parsons and his assistant Mr. Ewing.

The team was dominated by underclassmen, as the only starting seniors were Olin West at catcher, Joe Scattergood at first, and Larry Buell and Sam Dixon on the mound. The other pitchers were Jerry Aldrich, Dave Fletcher and Oscar Goodman. The remaining infield positions were held up by sophomores Lance Boerner at second, Eric Heberlein at shortstop, Chris Harvey at third, and junior Bill Ertel also at short. In the outfield, juniors Phil Hepburn in right, John Haslett in center, and Bob Sherrod in left were the starters. Doug Krause, Bill Ewing, Oscar Goodman, and Jim Laier proved to be very apt substitutes.

Terrible weather and a muddy field at the start of the season greatly hindered the practice and the progress of the team. The first game was played as scheduled and we defeated Frankford 4-3, but rain caused the Tower Hill game to be postponed. In the first Inter-Ac game, the team routed Chestnut Hill, 6-2.

In the second Inter-Ac game against Friends' Central, the Fords were upset, 4-3, but they rebounded to down Lawrenceville, 5-1, the following day.

TRACK

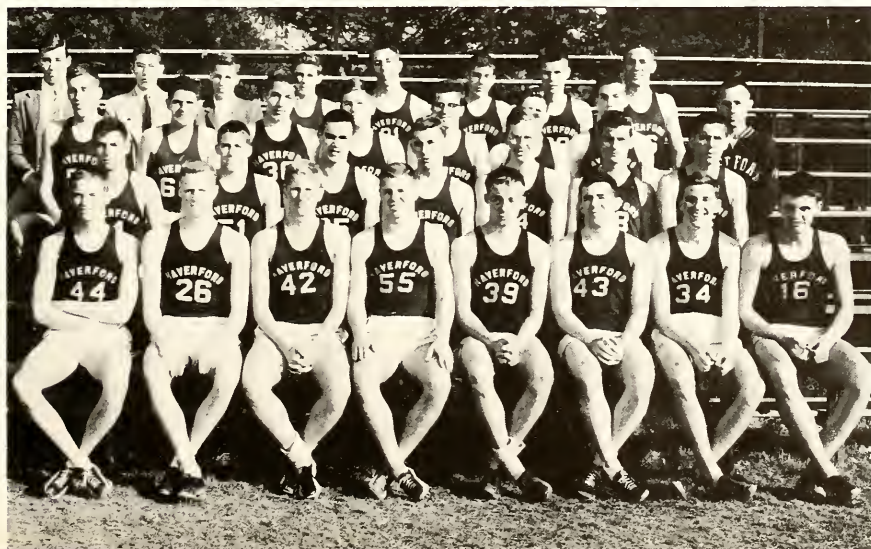

Captain Webster

The track team, under the leadership of Coach Buckley and Captain Tom Webster, enjoyed a very successful season. Highlights of the season were the excellent performances in the Bridgeton and University of Pennsylvania Relay Championships, and the Inter-Ac Championships.

The outstanding members of the team in the dashes were Captain Tom Webster, Mark Smith, Morris Swope, Walter Acuff, and Wells Wilbur; Sam Dixon, Carl Weil and Acuff in the hurdle events. Charles Classen was the best in the mile and Ted Rauch and Jeff Odiorne turned in good performances in the half-mile. Al Oehrle, John Pusey, Rusty Stevens, and Kit Wilkes battled for top honors in the pole vault, and John Deitrick, Tom James, and Fred Meinke waged a similar battle in the shot put. Norris Eisenbrey led the high-jumpers with Captain Webster, Morris Swope, and Carl Weil close beneath him. In the broad jump, Mark Smith was the leader with Captain Webster, Weil, and David Rogers following.

On April 9, the track team started its season on the right foot by defeating Germantown Academy, 66-1/2 - 32-1/2, on the home track. In the opening Back Row: Jeff Allen, Arnold, Wilson, F. Jacobs, B. Morris, W. Odiorne, C. Roberts, C. Auchincloss, Third Row: Shaffer, Kreidler, Cromwell, Barclay, Brown, Wilkes, Sinkler, Mr. Buckley. event, the 120 yard high hurdles, Sam Dixon took a second place. In the 100 yard dash, Mark Smith became Haverford's first winner with Captain Webster, second, and Morris Swope tying for third. Charles Classen won the mile with ease with Bob Kreitler finishing second. In the quarter mile dash, Captain Webster overcame an early Germantown lead to win, with Wells Wilbur nipping the Germantown runner at the tape to take second. The 180 yard low hurdles was taken by Germantown with Walter Acuff placing second. Mark Smith became the meet's first double winner by winning the 220 yard dash. In the half-mile, Ted Rauch and Jeff Odiorne climaxed a fine day on the cinders for us by taking first and second respectively. In the shot put, John Dietrick and Tom James took second and third respectively. In the pole vault, we shut out Germantown, with Al Oehrle and John Pusey tying for first, and Rusty Stevens and Kit Wilkes tying for third. Mark Smith was denied his third win of the afternoon and had to settle for a second place in the broad jump. In the final event, Norris Eisenbrey tied for first place in the high jump. Captain Webster and Morris Swope tied for third.

The Haverford School Varsity Tennis team for 1957, led by its captain, Steve Vehslage, and its coach, Mr. Richardson, had its season built around one important objective — to capture the Inter-Ac crown for the sixth consecutive year. The team was centered around the four returning lettermen, R. Gordon, R. Howe, G. West, and Captain Vehslage. The latter three did not start playing tennis, however, until the middle of April, because of a late-season squash tourney.

The general line-up for the Varsity was as follows:

|-------------------|--------------|
| 1. Capt. Vehslage | 3. C. Keevan |
| 2. R. Howe | 4. R. Gordon |

|---------------------------|
| 1. A. Jacobs and G. West |
| 2. W. Hyland and G. Large |

This year, there was no J. V. team, due to the lack of tennis courts. The varsity team consisted of only the first twelve players on the challenge ladder.

Standing: Hyland, Ridgley, Vetterlein, C. Smith, Wentz, Large, R. Howe, Ledwith, Widing, R. West, G. West, Mr. Richardson. Kneeling: Sloan, Forstoll, Keegan, Jacobs, Gordon, Capt. Vehslage.

CREW

The Varsity Four

Barclay and Captain Dyer

Early in March, the Haverford crew, under the tutelage of Mr. Fred Leonard, a famed sculler, started its daily workouts on the Schuylkill River. During spring vacation, at which time the varsity boats were selected, the boys rowed twelve miles a day.

The varsity four, which was in contention for an English Henley race this summer, consisted of: bow-Taylor Buckley, 2-Tom Russell, 3-Ted Hoag, stroke-Baird Morgan and coxswain-Peter Guerrini. Rowing in the varsity double were Wally Dyer, the crew's captain, and Charlie Barclay.

Standing: Barclay, Morgan, Arscott, Russell, R. Francis, Hoag, Whitelaw, Buckley, Souder, Dyer (capt.), Mr. Leonard (coach). Kneeling: J. Christie.

GOLF

Captain Reed

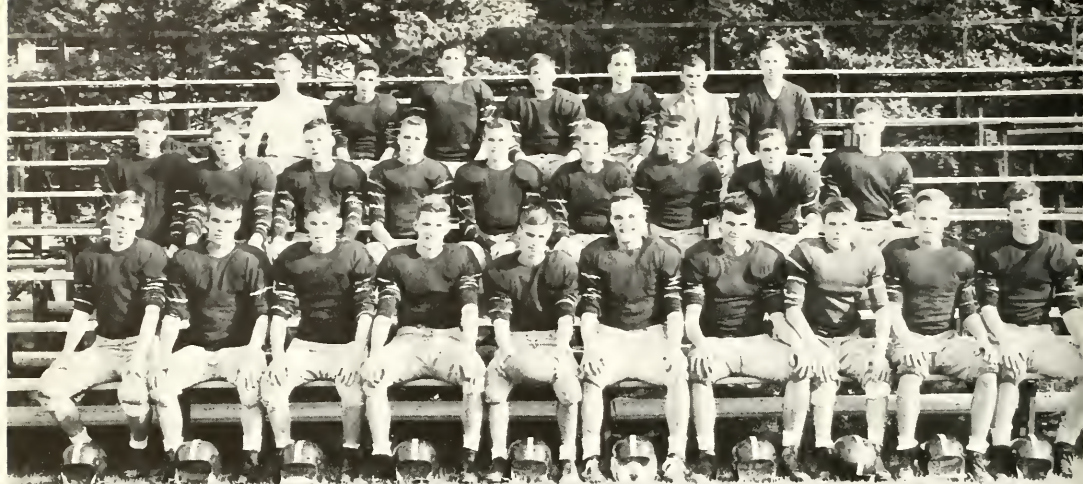

The first three positions on the Haverford School Golf team were occupied by A. Lipsky, G. Gerdemann, and captain J. Reed. These three players, however, often changed the lineup by making a birdie or by driving a well-aimed ball into a sand-trap. The next three positions also varied, with J. Ramsdell, E. Dixon, and J. Howson usually playing in this order. J. Bevan played anchorman for the team.

Mr. Austin, the Golf team's coach, gave very few driving exhibitions, but he kept his team together and helped them greatly.

The team got off to a poor start with two losses to Peddie and Valley Forge Academy but during the next few matches the team showed great improvement. Although the schedule was very tough, the team worked hard and played their best to win.

Standing: Mr. Austin, deTurénne, Scowcraft, Campbell, W. Fitler, Skerrett, Remy. Kneeling: J. Howson, E. Dixon, Bevan, J. Reed, Lipsky, J. Ramsdell.

Ball Four!

Coach Heyward ponders

CLASS PROPHECY

"Another wobbly, eh?" said the cop. He smacked me behind the ear with his lead pipe and everything went black. When I came to, I found myself in a hospital along with many other labor agitators. Fred Gottshall peered at me from the next bed through the bandage covering his head and said:

"Them bulls mean business, don't they?" I tried to smile but couldn't.

The doctor looked at me and grunted: "Take it easy, you anarchist, Litton." I started to ask how he knew me, but I recognized that it was my old buddy, Chris Smith.

"I didn't know you worked here at Bryn Mawr," I said.

Smith replied: "There are a lot of things you don't know. You don't know that all you guys working for Wally Dyer are going to be deported for your un-American actions in striking against companies supplying strategic materials for the government. Maybe you don't like the wages the workers get at places like Tom Russell's Midnite Auto Supply Corporation or Mike Roberts' Innisfree Speed Shop. Sam Dixon is making a good living installing triple pots and boring larger cylinders down at the shop. Glen Gerdemann is doing well working for Russell, and he only works three hours a day — midnite to three A.M. You guys are no good. Look at the other men in our class. They are all successful, every one of them.

"Lots of them stayed right in this area; many of them are still connected with the school. Take Chuck Olson, for example. He started work for the school as a cook, and now he is the Dean of Boys — a position he has always aspired to. Olin West — he's been head of the athletic department for 10 years. His football teams have never yet lost a game. Dick Eckfeldt, PG, has captained the team every year. Ralph West was finally made head of the English department and is honored and respected as a gentleman and a scholar. Joe Scattergood is the director of the Building Fund Drive. You can see him every day cruising around in his pink Caddy convertible with Bill Frankel, the contractor for the new field house, and Tag Geer, the designer of same. The field house, incidentally, has the most advanced wrestling facilities in the world. Unfortunately, poor old Neil Buckley hasn't won a match since Tom Webster left in '57."

"Whatever happened to Tom?" I asked, beginning to become interested in my dear old class.

Smith answered: "I've got to leave. John duPont is in serious condition. He broke his leg falling from an eagle's nest at Hawk Mountain. Here comes Dr. Alles, he can catch you up on the rest of our lousy class." Smith had a few words with Alles and then hurried out of the room.

Van came over to my bed and spoke: "So you want to know about our class? Webster is the head professor of Physics at M.I.T. Many who have studied under him admire his wit in employing such parables as "The Tale of the Foolish Ant" to explain complex problems in the theory of time structure.

Several men work here at the hospital. Dr. Jim Eaton is in charge of the alcoholic patients. Dr. Tom Chase is a specialist in women's diseases. Did you notice the murals on the walls as you entered the hospital? — oh, I guess not. Well, anyway, our own Dr. Chuck Diamond painted them. For red, he used blood; for yellow, ear wax; for green, well . . . by the way, Fred Carter decided not to go into animal husbandry, so he just prowls around here cleaning up under the operating table. He supplies Dr. Diamond with his paints. Allan Lipsky, of course, is the head of the department of mental illness here."

Just then, a car came tearing down the Barclay Highway outside, making a noise like an airplane. Its radio was blaring out one of the hit jive tunes of the day. The Barclay Highway, incidentally, is named after old Charlie and goes from the Undine Barge Club to the west coast. I asked Van about the loud car. "Oh," he said, "that's Tony Neff again. He comes past here every day about this time. That jazz he's playing on his radio is sung by Oscar Goodman, who is still the idol of millions of teen-age girls."

"Have we got anyone else in the entertainment world?"

"Yes, as a matter of fact, we do have a few. Jay Allen is the top name among the hillbilly singers. Pete Ward is starring on Broadway in Dick Ledwith's hilarious musical comedy, "The Four Piglets." Suave Alton Thoroughgood appears in many cigarette and liquor ads in magazines and on television. Jim Maxfield is a singing disc jockey for Henry Welsh's prosperous radio and television network, while lawyer Bill Whitelaw has kept Jim from doing anything illegal in his little enterprise. Dave McIlvaine is a faith-healer on television. He and his business manager, John Reed, are doing very well traveling coast to coast with their nationally famous tent meetings. Steve Vehslage is a professional squash player and for 10 consecutive years he has been the world's champion. He works out of the Merion Cricket Club, now owned and operated by conscientious Chris Brown."

"Whatever happened to Bob Gordon, my dear old co-editor of the Index?"

"He is still connected with a scandal sheet, although the Daily News is quite an improvement over the Index. All worldwide and national news is condensed into one paragraph. Beauty contests, murders, and vice scandals get full coverage with those two-foot headlines Bob likes so much. The daily report of J. T. "Slimy Tongue" Buckley, the gossip columnist, is the favorite feature of many of the readers of the Daily News. A full page photograph of Ollie Cannon and the 2200-pound marlin he caught near the Bahamas appeared in yesterday's paper. Ollie holds several world's records in game fishing and is hailed as a master sportsman around the world. By the way, I heard that Larry Buell is also connected with the fish game. He works out of Melbourne Beach, Florida, as a professional fish cleaner. He can gut and scale a 10-pound trout in 1:52.7 flat.

"John Hornsey, of Kelly and Hornsey, contractors, has a daughter, Grace, who is going to marry the prince of Monte Carlo this April. Such publicity—its Hornsey for Brickwork now! He supplied the labor for Haverford's new field house that Smith told you about. Incidentally, that building, in keeping with the rest of the school, is equipped with Chinese furniture, all of which was imported by John Girvin. John shrewdly sold the goods to the school by weight, after he bored holes in the legs of the chairs, and filled them with lead. He might have got away with it, except for the fact that he put packets of another Chinese product—opium—in the upholstery, and the customs men found it. Poor John fought the case to the Supreme Court, but Chief Justice William Ewing gave him no less than life at Eastern State Penitentiary. Ted Rauch is there too, by the way. It seems there were some shady goings-on at Rauch's Chimney Point Enterprises, Inc.

"Well, that's about the story. Is there anyone else you would like to hear about?"

"Is there anyone else? You bet there is! Where's that old son-of-a-gun George Robertson?"

"How could I have forgotten? . . . George is probably the luckiest guy in our class. He retired after graduation and is now honorary president of the Newtown Square Railroad Company. All he does is read "Modern Railroads" and watch the trains go by from his front porch, as he skimps by on the $100,000 a year that the railroad pays him. He is the embodiment of the ambitions and desires of all the class of '57."

"Thanks a lot. It was a real pleasure learning about all the men of our class—the best class ever!"
